FCC ANNOUNCES WORKING FREQUENCY AND SELECTIVE CALLING NUMBER ASSIGNMENTS FOR RADIOTELEGRAPH SHIP STATIONS

The Commission has amended its rules to implement changes in frequencies, operating procedures, technical standards, and other criteria relating to use of radiotelegraphy in the maritime services adopted at the International Telecommunication Union World Maritime Administrative Radio Conference, Geneva, 1974.

The following updated list of ship stations, currently licensed for the use of radiotelegraphy, is provided to the public in accordance with the Commission's Report and Order in Docket No. 20813. The Report and Order contains the specific frequencies associated with the working frequency series numbers (W01 through W62). As indicated in the list, each ship is assigned two series numbers to be used for normal working. Other series numbers, and frequencies therefrom, may be used by a ship station when the frequencies of the two assigned series numbers are not adequate. Listed ships are authorized to use the indicated selective calling numbers and working frequency assignments in conjunction with their existing ship radio station authorizations.

Any questions or comments with respect to this list of radiotelegraph ship stations should be addressed to: Federal Communications Commission, Aviation and Marine Division, Room 8202, 2025 M Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. 20554, Telephone Number (202) 632-7403.
